Opinion Sampling

One of the intriguing puzzles of the day is that everything seems to be run by surveys, but no one knows anyone who has ever been surveyed. This is a phenomenon which requires some investigation.

Every brand of detergent seems to be able to produce the results of a survey showing twice as many women prefer it to any other. A favorite newspaper feature or television show disappears because someone determined that not much of the audience was reading or listening.

Government, industry and any number of private interest groups use polls to determine what people are eating, drinking, bathing with, traveling in, wearing, deodorizing with, and looking for in the way of a spouse, boss, employe and social acquaintance. Presumably, a lot of personal information is being bandied about.

The reason few people know anyone who has been polled is that someone along the way - probably through a survey - determined that 1,500 was a reasonably accurate and economical number of persons to be included in a poll.

Thus, if an entirely new batch of raw data was assembled each week, it would take centuries to get around to any particular individual. But cheer up, with all the poll claims being made today, someone sooner or later is bound to ask your opinion, though it may be only whether you pay any attention to opinion polls. - Monroe (La.) At Least 2 More Days of Heat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas will have at least two more days of hot, sultry weather as a high pressure area continued to dominate the weather.

Light winds will continue to move across the state from the south, bringing more hot air.

The U.S. Weather Bureau says afternoon heat may trigger an isolated thundershower around the state, but the probabilities are too low to estimate.

However, a cold front, located to the west of the high pressure area, is pushing eastward. This front may bring the possibility of a few showers and thundershowers to the state by Friday.

Highs Tuesday ranged from 98 at Little Rock to 90 at Harrison and Memphis.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 69; Harrison, 72; Jonesboro, 71; Pine Bluff, 70; Texarkana, 72; El Dorado, 69; Memphis and Little Rock, 70 and Fort Smith, 76.

No precipitation was recorded during the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

Loses His Appeal on Bank Loan

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A South Dakota man who contended that he was defrauded by the City National Bank of Fort Smith lost his appeal Monday to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

R. S. Miskimins of Mitchell, S.D., was fighting an order from Sebastian Circuit Court holding him liable for the remaining $9,000 he allegedly owes on a $25,000 note to the bank.

Ex-Missionaries Auto Victims

CLARENDON, Tex. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mitchell, former Presbyterian missionaries to Japan from El Dorado, were killed in an automobile accident near here Tuesday.

National Jet Is Hijacked

MIAMI (AP) — A National Airlines jet bound from San Francisco to Miami with 39 persons aboard was diverted to Cuba today, a National spokesman said.

Details of the apparent hijack were sketchy, the spokesman said.

"Eleven minutes after takeoff from New Orleans the pilot radioed: 'On way to Havana. Request Havana weather,'" the spokesman said.

The DC8 carried 32 passeners and a crew of seven. The flight originated in San Francisco with stops at Las Vegas and Houston before New Orleans.

The spokesman said the jetliner was apparently hijacked over the Gulf of Mexico.

Fire Damage for Jerry Johnson

Hope Fire Dept. answered a call Tuesday at 11:30 p.m. to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Johnson at 215 E. 15th street where faulty wiring in the attic had started a fire. There was considerable fire, smoke and water damage.

Holiday Road Toll to Be 560 to 660

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents over the Fourth of July weekend may claim between 560 and 660 lives, the National Safety Council has estimated.

The period covered by the estimate released Tuesday extends from 6 p.m. local time Thursday, July 2, through midnight Sunday, July 5. Although the period runs 78 hours, it is considered a three-day holiday.

The Independence Day weekend extended over an identical time period last year. The Associated Press counted 611 traffic deaths then.

Warren's Mixed Drinks in Effect

WARREN, Ark. (AP) — The controversial mixed-drink permit issued to the Town House Club here became effective today, but the Bradley County Christian Civic League has not given up its fight to have the permit taken away from the club.

About 400 persons met Monday night to hear speeches from ministers, local officials and state representatives.

She Asks Why Women Pretend They Really Want to Go to a Bar

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — You can lead me to McSorley's, but you can't make me drink.

Far be it from me to sneer at the efforts of those women who finally broke the 115-year-old sex barrier at McSorley's Old Ale House in Greenwich Village.

They've won the right to stand in the sawdust, belly up to the bar and quaff their ale with the men.

What puzzles me is why they'd want this somewhat dubious privilege.

Women are never really at their best in bars.

Try perching on a bar stool. Chances are your legs aren't long enough. Hoist yourself up anyway. With the midi there isn't too much peril to modesty.

Now find a place to put your purse. Before all you militants do away with that little feminine frippery you'll have to find a place to carry the money with which you'll independently pay for your own drinks.

Put the purse on the floor and you can't reach it. Put it on the bar and get a sneering, "Lady, I gotta serve drinks here. Move that thing." Put it in your lap and it falls into the sawdust.

The art of drinking isn't much easier. That hearty mug of ale —no fair cheating and ordering an apricot brandy sour— is designed for male mitts, not feminine fingers. And nothing looks sillier than a ale drinker who hoists the mug with two fists.

If you're looking for conversation, the bar ain't the place.

What about eavesdropping on those tales of woe poured out to the bartender, legendary amateur psychiatrist? Close your eyes, imagine the voices are an octave higher and you might as well be at the beauty parlor listening to Mrs. Jones regale her hairdresser.

Entertainment means television, preferably two sets, each tuned to a different sports event. Don't try to listen. Just grunt with the crowd.

If this is freedom to the feminists, they caozio it. I'll slither off my stool remembering the words of Aesop: "Bette bans and bacon in peace, than cakes and ale in fear." Or in a liberated saloon.

Nixon Rebuked for War Action Without Consent of Senate

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-war senators have rebuked President Nixon for sending troops into Cambodia with a surprisingly large vote to curtail future U.S. troop operations in the Southeast Asian nation.

By a 58-37 vote, the Senate approved the controversial Cooper-Church amendment Tuesday following eight weeks of heated debate. The measure, however, faces another long fight and possible modification when conferees seek to resolve differences between the versions passed by the House and Senate.

At the Western White House, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the President didn't consider the action a rebuff.

"I think the Senate has clearly recognized the constitutional power and responsibility of the commander-in-chief," he said. On the other hand, the White House had maintained constant opposition to the amendment, sponsored by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho.

The vote came several hours after Nixon termed the Cambodian incursion a success, officially announced all U.S. elements had been withdrawn and vowed to make new efforts for a negotiated peace settlement for all of Indochina.

He said in a written statement from the California White House the attack would save American and allied lives in the future and assure the orderly withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam.

At least two more debates over U.S. policy in Southeast Asia are expected in the Senate

2 Israeli Planes Lost Over Suez

By MICHAL GROSS
Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel admitted the loss of two of its warplanes in bombing raids Tuesday along the Suez Canal, and a senior army officer said Russian SAM2 missiles probably brought them down.

The Jerusalem Post said the planes might have been downed by the more advanced SAM3 missiles the Soviets have installed in Egypt, but the Israeli officer said the Egyptians fired a "rash" of SAM2s during the raid.

The officer said the SAM2 sites are generally manned by Egyptians with Soviet advisers. SAM3s are deployed in the Nile Valley, but there have been no reports to date of any in the canal zone, presumably because they are manned by Soviet crews and the Russians don't want to expose their men to Israeli attack.

Israeli pilots have reported seeing sites for SAM2's under construction along the Egyptian side of the canal, and these sites are one of the main objectives in the round-the-clock bombing raids now being carried out by Israel against Egypt's canal defenses.

This was the first time Israel has admitted losing any planes over Egypt since June 1, when the constant bombing raids began. The officer said the only other Israeli plane brought

2 'Copter Crashes, 8 GIs Killed

By RICHARD PYLE
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Two U.S. helicopters were shot down Tuesday night just inside South Vietnam's border with Cambodia, killing eight Americans and wounding five, the U.S. Command announced today.

A spokesman said it was not known what type of mission the two UH1 choppers were on when enemy fire brought them down one and two miles south of the border across which the last American combat troops in Cambodia had withdrawn the day before.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported a total of 86 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed in scattered fighting in South Vietnam, most of them by air attack.

In Cambodia, more than 5,000 South Vietnamese troops were sweeping areas north of Phnom Penh, and 800 more U.S.-trained mercenaries arrived in the capital to bolster its defenses.

The South Vietnamese reported no contact with the enemy, and a Cambodian military spokesman here said the only significant actions reported in the country were probes against government positions at Siem Reap, in the northwest, and a mortar attack on Neak Luong, the Mekong River ferry crossing 35 miles southeast of Phnom Penh where the South Vietnamese have located a big new logistics base.

The mortar attack killed three civilians and wounded six, but there were neither casualties nor damage at the new base, the spokesman said.

June Banner Industrial Month

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Adrian Williamson Jr., executive director of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, said Tuesday that June had been one of the most successful months for industrial growth in the state's history.

Williamson said that seven plants announced plans to locate in Arkansas and three others announced plans for expansion. About 1,700 new jobs would result from the announcements, Williamson said.

He attributed the industrial growth to an increasing awareness of industrial engineers to "the unique assets of Arkansas" partly because of the publicity about the opening of the Arkansas River to navigation.

Williamson said that in addition to the new plants coming to the state, it was also announced in June that the Health, Education and Welfare Department was committing itself to using the Pine Bluff Arsenal as an experimental station.

Russian Gain Seen in Post-Stalin Era

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

MOSCOW (AP) — For one who saw the Soviet Union in the last days of the Stalin era, a fresh visit creates an immediate impression of all-around betterment of the average Russian's life. Yet much of the dreary side of Soviet life has resisted change. That is equally striking.

As was to be expected in view of the Communist party's long-term policy, the "velikii stroikii"—the great projects such as hydroelectric stations, dams and the huge heavy industrial installations cherished by the party's planners—have been multiplying all along. In addition there are many new airports, hotel buildings, glistening business buildings of steel, aluminum and glass; many new apartment buildings and new roads leading into Soviet cities.

There are more and bigger stores. At first glance there seem to be more and better goods in the stores, and in some respects this is true. It also appears that there are more people with money to spend in the stores.

However, behind all the outward glitter there is much that is the same as ever before. A prolonged walk in any one of the cities now open to foreigners suggests that the consumer is not much better off than was his father. It suggests that the party isn't particularly interested in the consumer or in anything much besides retaining its own position as a ruling elite.

Goods in the stores remain mostly shoddy and outrageously expensive. Soviet production for the consumer side still strikes the Westerner as scandalous for a nation as fantastically rich as the Soviet Union in all manner of resources.

There is no shortage of wealth and skills for whatever helps construct centralized power, for the military, for the space program, for air communications, for heavy industry. Little remains for the consumer, and on that side the tendency still is to polish the visible brass and forget the rest. To the Westerner's eye, the consumer economy remains a severe indictment of the Soviet system.

So enormously rich is the U.S.S.R. that it migh long ago have surpassed the United States in many fields, but chances that it will even catch up in the foreseeable future are extremely dim. Moscow is unlikely to risk the measures that would be necessary to take advantage of the opportunities.

Picture Phone Is Here

By D. BYRON YAKE
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A new communications era began today when the inaugural call on a picturephone was made by Mayor Peter F. Flaherty to John D. Harper, newly elected board chairman of Aluminum Co. of America.

It was 94 years ago when Alexander Graham Bell heralded the entrance of the telephone with the words, "Mr. Watson, come here, I want you."

Flaherty dialed the picturephone, then hung up and smiled when connection was not made.

He dialed again, Harper's face came into sharp view and Flaherty said, "Good morning, John. You're looking well this morning."

He closed the conservation with the words, "Here's looking at you."

About 35 picture phones will be in service to eight customers in Pittsburgh.

Lawrence J. Barnhorst, Bell Telephone vice president, said Chicago will have intracity service with Pittsburgh next year and Washington, D.C., Cleveland, Detroit and Philadelphia and possibly New York City will begin local service.

If New York gets service in 1971, intracity service will begin between New York and Pittsburgh and New York and Washington.

Alaskan Says U.S. Nazis Threatened Anti-War Senators

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Nazi party says anti-war senators are traitors who "need a bullet right between the eyes."

Listing Sens. George McGovern, D-S.D., J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., as the vanguard of treason, the party—officially the "National Socialist White Peoples Party"—said they should all be shot.

"McGovern, Fulbright, Hatfield, the whole rotten bunch, need a bullet right between the eyes," the party said in a recorded "white power message" from its headquarters in Arlington, Va.

Spokesmen for the three senators singled out said they had no public comment.

The telephone message surfaced late Tuesday night when Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, read a transcript of it on the Senate floor.

Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said the Justice Department had been informed and was acting, but spokesmen for the agency and the FBI said early today they were not aware of the matter.

In the message, still being played early today, a man identifying himself as Dr. William Pierce said President Nixon had withdrawn U.S. troops from Cambodia "before they had a chance to do the job they were sent there to do."

A Dr. William Pierce has acted as party spokesman and "ideological officer" for more than a year.

The speaker said military men had urged more time, "but

Nixon May Name New Parley Chief

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Nixon, following up a written report to the nation on U.S. military operations in Cambodia, may disclose tonight whether he plans to name a new chief peace negotiator in Paris.

Nixon will answer an hour of questions starting at 10 p.m. EDT from one representative of each of the three major television-radio networks on foreign affairs topics.

It was evident in advance that Nixon would be asked about nomination of a successor to former negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge, who resigned last December.

The President said Tuesday that "we shall renew our efforts to bring about genuine negotiations both in Paris and for all of Indochina."

A White House official, declining to be identified, briefed newsmen at the Western White House in San Clemente after Nixon's statement was made public. The aide said the question of a new peace negotiator naturally would be a part of any review of approaches to negotiations.

Nixon flew to Los Angeles Tuesday evening to prepare for his TV-radio appearance. Staying at the Century Plaza Hotel, with only a handful of aides accompanying him, Nixon was said to be reading and gathering his thoughts for the session with the questioners.

P.O. Reform Heads for Conference

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate agreed today to fatten everymailman's wallet and create an independent agency to take over operation of the ancient and deficit-plagued Post Office Department.

The postal reform bill, passed 76 to 10 in a post-midnight vote, now goes to a conference committee to resolve differences with a similar bill previously passed by the House.

A U.S. Postal Service would replace the present Cabinet-level Post Office Department under the sweeping reorganization plan that, in its broad outlines, carries out recommendations of President Nixon.

Postal workers also will receive an 8 per cent pay raise.

The new agency, run by a board of governors appointed by the President and subject to Senate confirmation, would have control over postal rates, negotiate pay scales with employe unions, and could issue up to $10 billion in bonds for modernization of post offices and equipment.

The Senate bill, unlike the House bill, would not give Congress a veto over increases in postal rates.

The 8 per cent pay raise, initially costing $645 million, is

1971 Draft Lottery Is Due Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Men born on July 9, 1951, will be the first called for the draft in 1971, under a national lottery conducted today.

That date and low number were the 11th set to be matched in the lottery drawing, assigning numbers and dates in a scrambled sequence.

The first drawing of the lottery assigned No. 139 to Sept. 16.

As the drawing continued No. 235 was assigned to April 27; then No. 185 to Jan. 18; No. 5 to Oct. 21; and No. 134 to Oct. 3.

The lottery is to assign numbers from one to 365, each to one date of the year, corresponding to the birthday of men born in 1951.

The selections were made by the drawing of capsules from two plexiglass drums, rotated between each call.

For each selection a red capsule containing a date was picked out and matched with the number from a green capsule drawn from the other drum.

The numbers and dates were drawn by delegates to a convention of the Selective Service Youth Advisory Committee.

The drum with green capsules broke down just before the lottery was to begin, causing a 15-minute delay until it was repaired.

The drawing will determine the order in which men will be selected for military service next year. About two million 19-year-olds are involved in the lottery results. How many of these are called will depend on the Pentagon's manpower needs.

Men whose birth dates are matched with the lowest numbers will be drafted first. Draft boards will go as high as they need to fill their quotas.

Draft calls have been falling with the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Southeast Asia. Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird predicted Tuesday night substantial further draft reductions because of what he characterized as the success of the two-month U.S. raid into Cambodia.

Men who have already received draft sequence numbers in a similar lottery last December were not affected by today's drawing. They keep their December numbers permanently.

Each year, a new group of men becomes the prime draft pool—the first from which draftees are selected by lottery number.

If a man gets through his prime draft year in 1-A "available" status without being drafted, he cannot be inducted in following years unless the prime groups that follow are completely called.

Each man remains subject to the draft until he reaches age 26. But each year he steps down automatically into a progressively less vulnerable category.

If a man is deferred or exempt, however, during his group's prime year, he must face a prime year of his own if and when he becomes 1-A, taking his place in line with his original lottery number.

Last December's lottery was followed by charges from some mathematicians that the dates that were drawn, in a simple one-two-three order, were insufficiently mixed. It was alleged that the result was biased against men with birthdays late in the year.

To avoid any such doubts this time, Selective Service officials took careful precautions to scramble both dates and numbers separately.

They stuffed the dates into red plastic capsules on Monday, in a scrambled sequence dictated by a random table created by a computer and available in a standard textbook. The sequence itself was picked at random from 25 choices.

Numbers from one to 365 were stuffed into green capsules by the same procedure using another random table.

Then the red and green capsules were placed into separate plexiglas drums according to still a third random table.

Hospital Bill Veto Overridden

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has overridden a presidential veto of a politically popular $2.76 billion hospital construction bill, adding new fuel to the election year debate over inflation.

By a 76-19 vote, the Senate Tuesday night completed congressional action on the first veto override in 10 years and rejected a presidential scolding about fiscal responsibility.

There was no comment from the White House but a leading administration supporter in the Senate said the whole debat was just part of a "tiresome political dance."

"It is an attempt to wear down the President by making him fight inflation and the party that started the inflation at the same time," said Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo.

Senate action came just five days after the House voted 279 to 98 to repass the measure authorizing further construction under the Hill-Burton Act.

Sixty-seven Republicans joined 212 Democrats in that override, 27 more than the required two-thirds of those voting.

The Senate cleared the required two-thirds margin by 12 votes without a single Democrat lining up for Nixon, even though the Southern wing of the party generally has backed the President. Twenty-three Republicans, including GOP Leader Hugh Scott, joined 53 Democrats in the Senate override.

The Nixon administration has been trying to phase out the Hill-Burton program of direct grants and replace it with a program of guaranteed loans.

But the bill Congress has enacted over Nixon's opposition authorizes $1.26 billion in grants over the next three years, some $350 over budget requests.

It does include a provision for $1.5 billion in guaranteed loans but for the first time it requires the President to spend the grant money.

This prevents him from just ignoring it, which past chief executives had done.

When he vetoed the bill last week, Nixon said the measure is "a long step down the road of fiscal irresponsibility and we should not take that road."

Reagan's Budget Killed

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan's $6.59 billion California state budget was killed by Democrats in the legislature today and the nation's most populous state started the new fiscal year with no authority to pay its bills.

"The state has legally ceased to function," a weary Reagan told a 1 a.m. news conference after the budget failed to pass by two votes in each house.

The Republican governor called the budget opponents "intransigent" and said their demands—largely for more state aid to schools—would result in a $500 million tax increase.

The state's 181,000 workers were expected to work today even though their pay officially stopped at midnight.

It was the second time in the state's 120-year history that California started the new fiscal year without a budget. The first time was one year ago, when legislative Democrats held out until July 3 when they won education money concessions from Reagan.

Temporary Debt Ceiling 395 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has completed action on a bill raising the temporary national debt ceiling to $395 billion and making the permanent ceiling $380 billion.

The Senate passed the measure Monday night. It now goes to President Nixon for his expected signature. The old permanent ceiling was $365 billion —$15 billion under the new top.

By raising the temporary ceilng to $395 billion it now will be possible for the government to borrow money it says is needed to pay bills. The temporary ceiling will remain in effect to June 30, 1971 and then revert to the permanent $380 billion figure.

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy told the Senate Finance Committee last week that the debt would likely reach $370 billion today. He said then that failure to approve the increase would mean that the government would be unable to refund any maturing debt or incur new debt.

The Senate, before passing the bill to increase the ceiling 64 to 19, defeated an amendment that would have suspended the $12,500 annual pay increase that the 535 members of Congress voted themselves a year ago. Their annual pay now totals $42,500.

Tough Riot Bill for Ulster

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Pressured by the threat of Protestant demonstrations that could spark new violence tonight, Northern Ireland's parliament rushed through an emergency bill today ordering mandatory jail sentences for rioters.

The bill, approved after an all-night debate, takes away magistrates' discretionary powers and orders a minimum of six months in jail for riotous or disorderly behavior and at least 12 months for gasoline-bomb offenses.

In cases tried by jury, the minimum for a gasoline-bomb offense is two years in jail.

The bill was expected to receive approval from British Governor-General Lord Grey today, becoming law before five parades tonight planned by the military Protestant Orange Order. Orange parades often set off fighting between Protestants and Roman Catholics, and tonight's marches come after a weekend of Protestant-Catholic street fighting in which six persons were killed and more than 200 injured.

The Orange Order raised the threat of Protestant vigilantes, on the order of the B-Special Constabulary disbanded after last summer's religious warfare. In a warning today, the order said if security forces appear to lose control of the situation, "Ulstermen will rally again as they did in bygone days to maintain the welfare of the province and the welfare of their homes."

Meanwhile, truckloads of British troops fired tear gas to disperse a crowd of about 100 in a mixed Protestant-Catholic area in East Belfast.

Sevier School Plan Rejected

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A U.S. District Judge in Fort Smith, Ark., must modify a 1969 order for integration of the Sevier County School District in Western Arkansas, the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said Tuesday.

The opinion, written by Chief Judge Martin D. Van Oosterhout directed the Arkansas court to include election of a new school board and assignment of teachers by the board in its plan, originally adopted Aug. 7, 1969.

The appeals court found that Judge Paul X Williams of Fort Smith included assignment of teachers by the court rather than the school board. Utilization of school facilities is a matter for the school system and not the courts, the opinion said.

ALASKAN SAYS

the reds in our own Senate were squawking so loudly that Mr. Nixon, always the compromiser, agreed to pull our men out."

He said the only way to win a war was to press for decisive military advantage, but that Nixon was not doing that in the Indochina war.

"When it's all over, 50,000 young Americans will have been killed for nothing. For nothing Because we won't have really settled anything.

"We really won't have won a war, and the reason, in addition to Mr. Nixon's complete lack of spine, the reason will be treason, and just as there's only one way to win a war, there's only one way to deal with a traitor.

"You don't argue with him or vote against him in the next election. You kill him."

The speaker went on to say the party would hold a rally Sunday in the capital.

Last year the California attorney general removed the party's telephone because of a similar message in which Pierce said, "Let's clearly understand that there is one, one effective way to deal with the rampaging blacks on our campuses and in our cities and that is to kill them."

P.O. REFORM

part of an agreement worked out by Postmaster General Winton M. Blount last April to end a strike by postal workers.

It is on top of a 6 per cent pay increase for all federal employes voted by Congress earlier in the year. The Senate adopted, 73 to 14, an amendment by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., to make it retroactive to April 16 as in the House bill.

Blount's agreement with the postal unions also provided they could negotiate for union shop agreements—a form of compulsory unionism—subject to state right-to-work laws.

The House refused to include such a provision in its bill, and the issue stirred a major dispute in the Senate.

An amendment by Sen. Paul J. Fannin, R-Ariz., providing that postal employes should have the right to join or refrain from joining a union, was defeated by voice vote.

Earlier, on a test vote forced by Javits, the Senate had upheld 52 to 38 authority for the new postal service to negotiate closed shop agreements.

Also in the Senate bill is an amendment by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., to make it unlawful to send sex-oriented advertising through the mails to persons who have notified the Post Office Department they don't want to receive it.

The House has passed a separate and almost identical bill but not as part of its postal reform measure.

Another difference: The House measure requires the postal service to operate on a self-sustaining basis by 1978. The Senate provides for appropriation of up to 10 per cent of postal operating costs as a subsidy for public service charges.

down by a SAM2 was a Piper Cub spotter downed in March 1969 as it flew over the Israeli side of the canal.

No Israeli planes have been reported downed by SAM3s.

The two planes lost Tuesday went down in the central sector of the waterway, the officer said. He said three crewmen bailed out.

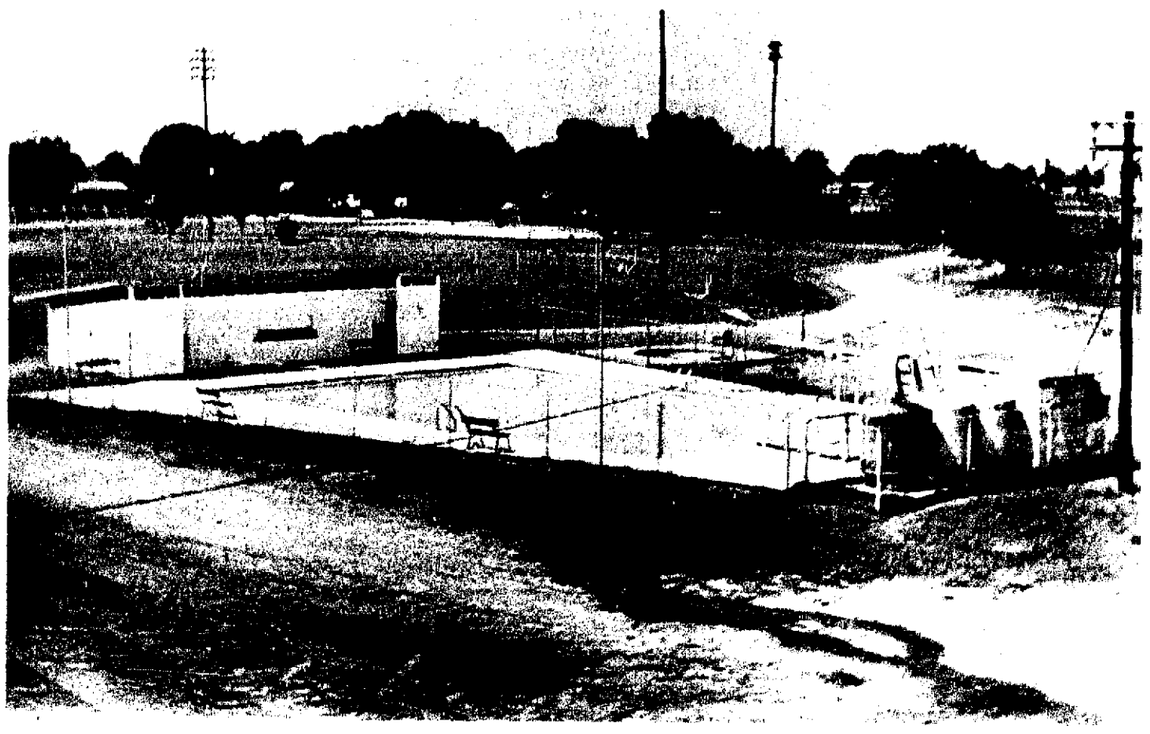

A military spokesman in Cairo claimed the Egyptians shot down four Israeli planes and captured three of the pilots. He reported that two of the planes were Phantom jets and two were Skyhawks, all American made, and he said one of the captives was being treated for broken arms and slight burns.

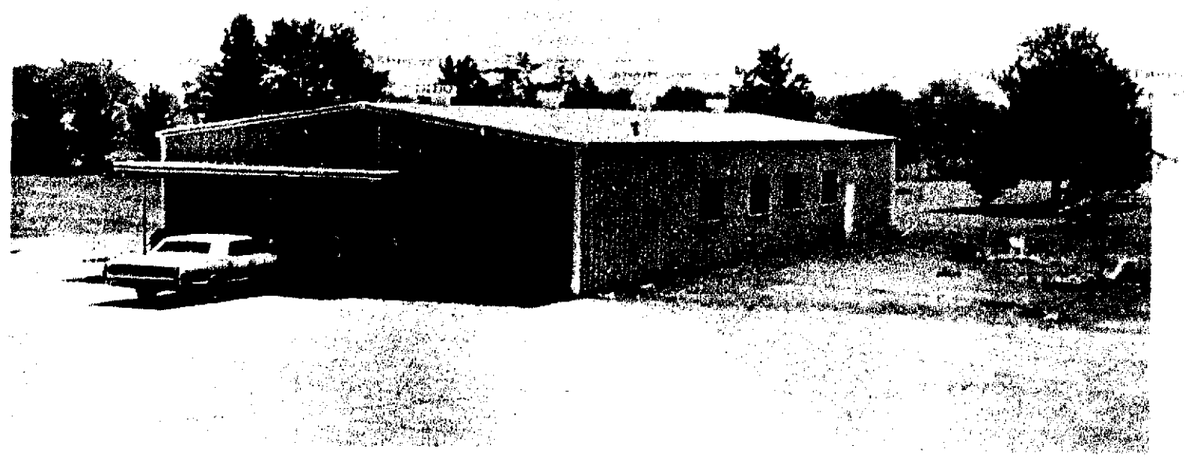

In Moscow, Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser continued his talks with Kremlin leaders. It is the third day of his visit to the Soviet capital.

Nasser in a speech Tuesday night thanked the Soviet Union for its support to the Arab states "in the most complex and dangerous conditions."

Nasser also commended the Palestinian guerrillas for turning themselves from refugees "into a people of fighters."

Vital Evidence Of Community Progress

By George Frazier

Hope City Directors, working as a team with the City Manager, believes in a Recreation Program second to none for cities the size of Hope.

About $36,000 annually is set up in the budget for this purpose. . .and did you know that this sum of money is about 25 percent more than all the city taxes collected from the citizens of Hope?

Top photo shows a modern swimming pool located in City Park and operated as a part of the City Parks and Recreation program. The swimming pool sets in an 18-acre well-kept park that also has picnic facilities and playground equipment.

In the background is a well-lighted baseball field that is a part of the summer recreation program at City Park. Bottom photo shows the Youth Center building. It is well equipped. . .and the building is also used as a Community Center.

City Park is only a part of the Hope Parks and Recreational system. Fair Park also has a swimming pool, softball and baseball fields which are used by thousands of persons — both young and old — during the summer months.

The City-Manager form of government has played a vital role in the development of these two recreational parks in recent years.

ART OR PORNOGRAPHY?

Dear Helen:

Our town's "adults only" book store is raided and shut down quite regularly, with proper expressions of shock from the populace.

I always went along with this distaste for the dirty old man who ran the place—until I discovered what they're selling in legitimate book stores these days. Take a quick tour through the psychology, sex and "art" sections of your best book shops—which are open to all ages—and you'll wonder how the sleazy stores could sell anything worse! It's all there, complete with diagrams and pictures, and the shelf copies are very well thumbed through, judging from smudged pages.

If the authorities are going to tromp down on dirty books, why pick on the "adults only" stores that screen out kids? Shouldn't they go after the "legits" that offer young people peep shows but stay respectable because they're in the good part of town? —SHOCKED

Dear Shocked:

Why not ask this of the authorities in your town? Maybe they can explain the difference between art and pornography, something I've never been quite able to figure out.

Meanwhile you've probably started a run on legit bookstores, for which the owners will thank you. —H.

Dear Helen:

When a 13-year-old girl complained that boys her age liked to smoke and make out, and asked how far she should let them go, you answered, "Let'em go another year or two until you're old enought to date."

That wasn't a satisfactory answer. She may be too young to date, but she's old enough to wonder about kissing and petting.

With kids maturing earlier each year, this girl may find herself in a cosy situation, smoldering a little, as is the boy. You should have warned her not to spend to much time alone with a boy she likes a lot, and don't tempt each other by sitting close or cuddling up. Couldn't you have come right out and said that early teens should not do any petting and should keep it "from the neck up," which means only a good night kiss for a special person?

Too often these youngsters listen to their peers and experiment more than they should, thinking it shows they are grown up. They need guidlines, for some of them are already going steady at age 13. —MRS. G.

Dear Mrs. G.:

Thank you for your worthwhile suggestions. In addition to guidelines, 13-year-olds need parent-reins. I'm the old fashioned type who thinks young teen-agers should be told to avoid the make-out boys, rather than be taught how to cope with them.— —H.

Dear Helen:

What am I doing wrong? I'm a 23-year-old going with a man who is 44, but acts more my age than any of the fellows in their 20s. I've enjoyed average popularity and am not grasping at Bill because I'm desperate.

It seems that after a few dates, the younger men all get serious. I'm not ready to think of marriage yet. Besides, I have a better time with Bill. We aren't hurting anyone.

My parents are violently opposed to this, as Bill is divorced and has a 14-year-old daughter. Should I listen to my parents or my heart? —BEWILDERED

Dear Bewildered:

You may listen to your parents say "We told you so" later on, but at 23, a girl should make her own decisions. If you were absolutely sure, however, you wouldn't be writing to me. So take it from there. —H.

Television and Radio

By JERRY BUCK
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In the span of four seasons the made-for-television movie has progressed from a gamble to the medium's major vehicle for drama.

This past season "My Sweet Charlie" was the most popular movie on TV and one of it's writers collected Emmys. In all, it received eight nominations.

ABC's 90-minute Movie of the Week was one of the most popular new programs last year and a few weeks ago the network organized a unit to produce two-hour movies.

CBS has its own Cinema Center 100 turning out movies for the home screen.

And Universal Studios, which produced the first World Premieres for NBC in 1966, will turn out approximately 15 this coming season.

"I think we do the best drama, not knocking the series, in the two-hour format. You've got time to build a character or a scene," said Stanley Robertson, NBC's director of motion pictures for television.

"The other studios laughed at the idea of original movies, but Universal came to us with the idea, put up the deficit financing and gambled on it."

Robertson, believed to be the highest black executive in the industry, works closely with the studio in selecting ideas, preparing scripts and choosing stars.

"You develop a gut instinct for which star is right for a part," he said. "And you rely on research. You've got to have the box office appeal and our research department is constantly running surveys on stars."

World Premiere is now NBC's primary means of developing pilots for future series. "The Senator" segment of "The Bold Ones" and the four mini-series that will comprise "Four In One" were movies. Of the latter, "McCloud" and "Night Gallery" have been shown and "San Francisco International" and "The Psychiatrist" will be aired early in the fall.

A few others, such as Jack Webb's "DA," will be built into movie series, reminiscent of the days of Andy Hardy and the Thin Man.

Robertson, a big, ruggedly built pipesmoker and a former newspaper and magazine editor, is one step below vice president and apparently is in line to win his stripes.

He said he lived through discrimination, but added: "That's yesterday. It's tomorrow that counts. We have some trainees coming along who can go all the way.

"You've got to forget you're black and do the job," he said. "If I get into a beef with a producer I can't say I'm black and can't talk to him in a certain way. If I didn't talk up to them I wouldn't be doing my job."

QUESTION: I am 64 years old and am receiving social security disability checks. My health is not improving and my doctor bills take about half of my checks. Is there any way I can qualify for Medicare?

ANSWER: No. The present law does not permit Medicare coverage for anyone under age 65.

QUESTION: Recently I broke my arm and the doctor told me I will be off work for three or four months. I have no other income. Will I be able to draw social security while I'm disabled?

ANSWER: No. The law states that to qualify for disability benefits, the disability must be expected to continue for at least twelve months.

QUESTION: I am fifty-five years old and am now unable to to work. My doctor tells me that I will not be able to work for two years. If I receive disability benefits will that cause me to receive reduced benefits when I reach retirement age at 65?

ANSWER: No, If you qualify for disability payments, these benefits will in no way reduce your retirement benefits.

QUESTION: My husband is 69 years old and is not able to do any work. Can he receive disability payments from social security?

ANSWER: No, the disability program is for people who become unable to do any substantial gainful work before they become eligible for full retirement benefits, that is, people under age 65.

QUESTION: I am 68 years of age and am receiving social security. I have a son who is 35 years of age and has been unable to care for himself all his life. Is it possible for him to receive any social security benefits on my record?

ANSWER: Yes, a child who has been unable to care for himself since birth or became unable to do any substantial gainful work anytime before he became 18 years of age may be eligible for disability benefits based on a parent's social security record. You should call or visit your local social security office as soon as possible.

Plans for 4-Bedroom, 2-Bath Home Show Modern Design

This house plan of modern design contains four bedrooms and two baths. The work room provides sufficient space for a washer, dryer and chest freezer and opens onto a screened porch which provides a breeze-way between the rear of the house and carport.

The kitchen is conveniently located adjacent to the dining room and opens into the breakfast room for informal dining. The "two-way" fireplace serves both the living and dining room. The ceiling of these two rooms follows the slope of the roof, thereby adding to the feeling of spaciousness.

The construction is of brick veneer and wood frame and it is well insulated. Living room windows provide a large area of glass and when open, allow maximum circulation of air. All other windows are of the conventional type.

Another feature of this house is the use of closet units or room dividers in place of the usual partitions. These closets along with the large storage closets provide generous storage space.

The plan provides a low-pitched roof with a wide overhang at the eaves. This arrangement, with the two screened porches provided for outdoor living, gives the house a low silhouette which is suitable for urban areas as well as for the farm.

You can get complete working drawings of this house Plan No. 577821 from Hempstead County Agricultural Extension Office. This plan is free of charge and may be used for estimating cost and during construction.

Brewers Edge Angels 5-4 on Long Hits

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Danny Walton can't do enough for the left field bleacherites in Milwaukee's County Stadium but you won't find the California Angels among his fan club members.

Walton destroyed the Angels Tuesday night with a game-tying home run in the third inning and a tie-breaking two-run shot in the eighth that powered the Milwaukee Brewers to a 5-4 victory.

The Angels dropped four games behind Minnesota in the American League West when Rick Renick's pinch hit grand slam homer rallied the Twins to an 8-5 triumph over Kansas City.

Elsewhere in the AL, Baltimore downed Cleveland 4-2, Detroit prepped for Denny McLain's return tonight with a 5-3 victory over the New York Yankees, Washington beat Boston 3-1 and Oakland edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3.

In the National League, the New York Mets held off Pittsburgh 7-6, St. Louis nipped the Chicago Cubs 5-4, Atlanta drubbed Cincinnati 8-2, Houston beat Los Angeles 6-2, San Diego shaded San Francisco 3-2 and Montreal trounced Philadelphia 8-1.

Walton, Milwaukee's slugging left fielder, hadn't homered since June 13 and fouled out with the bases loaded in the first inning. But he stepped to the plate in the third and creamed a Rudy May pitch into a left field bleachers — Walton Country.

He connected again in the eighth following a leadoff walk to Dave May — same place — and Bob Humphreys put down a California threat in the ninth at the cost of one run.

Sandy Alomar's single, a double by Roger Repoz and Alex Johnson's two-run homer gave the Angels a quick 3-0 lead in the first inning. But the Brewers got two back in the bottom of the inning on Gerry McNertney's bases-loaded single . . . after Walton fouled out.

The Twins trailed the Royals and rookie Don O'Riley 5-1 in the sixth inning but Harmon Killebrew started a five-run uprising with his 21st homer and, following Jim Holt's single and two walks, Renick walloped his grand slam off reliever Bob Johnson. Holt tripled home two insurance runs in the seventh.

Bob Oliver and Paul Schaal homered for Kansas City.

Having suffered three straight late-inning losses to their expatsies, the Washington Senators, Baltimore found just the tonic it needed to snap a three-game losing streak — the Cleveland Indians.

Boog Powell drove in three runs with a pair of homers and Don Buford also hit one out as Dave McNally breezed to his third win of the season over Cleveland and the Orioles' seventh without a loss.

The Tigers did in the Yankees with a five-run two-out burst in the third and five double plays. Pitcher Les Cain started the fire-works with his first major league homer, Mickey Stanley followed with his third of the season and, following Dick McAuliffe's single, Al Kaline cracked No. 10.

All the long balls came off Fritz Peterson and the Tigers immediately added a run off Ron Klimkowski on Gene Michael's two-base error and Jim Northrup's single. Ron Woods homered for the Yankees.

The Senators made it four consecutive late-inning victories, scoring three times in the seventh to beat the Red Sox. They trailed 1-0 with two out but walks to Aurelio Rodriguez and Bernie Allen and Eddie Brinkman's game-tying single finished Sonny Siebert.

Vicente Romo gave up a tie-breaking single to Paul Casanova and the third run scored on a wild pitch.

Bert Campaneris hit a three-run homer and Joe Rudi drove in the deciding run with a sixth-inning single as the A's edged the White Sox for Jim Hunter's 12th triumph. Carlos May homered for Chicago.

McLain's Attitude Big Question

DETROIT (AP) — Will Denny McLain harbor a grudge against batterymate—and critic — Bill Freehan tonight when the just-unsuspended pitcher makes his much-publicized season pitching debut?

That is one of many questions that may be answered when McLain takes the mound for Detroit against the New York Yankees and Gary Waslewski, 1-1.

"No, no! I think that's all over with," said Detroit player representative Jim Price referring to tension between McLain and Freehan.

"Bill and I talked about that tonight and I'm sure it's all over with," he added.

Freehan's recently published book "Behind the Mask" contains some critical references to McLain, saying he was given preferential treatment by Tiger management, including manager Mayo Smith.

Although the book just recently became available it was written before McLain was suspended April 1 by baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn for his alleged association with illegal bookmakers in Flint, Mich., in 1967. Tonight is Denny's first off the three-month punishment and a capacity crowd of about 53,000 was expecteed at Tiger Stadium.

Freehan was prepared for a barrage of questions on the subject Tuesday. And when several reporters approached him in the Tiger dressing room he immediately said: "Before you start I'll tell you I have no comment."

But he did add that he thought McLain was fully capable of doing a good job against the Yankees, even though because of the Kuhn edict he hasn't been able to workout against professional hitters.

New York manager Ralph Houk said he had no special plans.

"Why would I do anything ferent because McLain's pitching?" he questioned, chewing on a fresh cigar. "We've been playing good ball and I'd be an idiot to change anything because he is pitching."

If McLain, who won 55 games the last two season, gets hit hard by New York how long would it be before Smith would take him out.

"Well I'd have to say it would be according to how he is thorwing," Smith said.

McLain was expected to fly with his family from his Lakeland, Fla., home to Detroit this morning.

Price said the players haven't spoken much of McLain's return.

"They will wait and see if he has changed—not in his personal problems, but to see if he flies with the team like he's supposed to or anything else like that," he said.

Cards Hand Cubs 12th Loss in Row

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Steve Renko believes in taking his milestones in a logical order. So he'll concentrate on getting his first major league shutout before he thinks about his first no-hitter.

Renko mowed down the first 19 batters in order before surrendering a hit Tuesday night and settled for a three-hitter, pitching Montreal to an 8-1 victory over Philadelphia.

"I was more disappointed at losing the shutout than the no-hitter," said the logical pitcher. "I haven't had a shutout in the major leagues."

If Renko was disappointed it was nothing compared to the 51,050 fans who packed Cincinnati's new Riverfront Stadium only to see Atlanta spoil the ballpark's debut by thumping the Reds 8-2.

Elsewhere in the National League Tuesday night, St. Louis tagged Chicago with its 12th straight loss; 5-4 New York hung on to edge Pittsburgh 7-6, San Diego nipped San Francisco 3-2 and Houston downed Los Angeles 6-2.

In American League action, it was Milwaukee 5, California 4; Minnesota over Kansas City 8-5; Oakland 4-3 over Chicago; Detroit 5, New York 3; Baltimore over Cleveland 4-2 and Washington 3-1 over Boston.

Renko, a hard-throwing right-hander, was perfect for 6 1-3 innings, overpowering Philadelphia with a mixture of fastballs and sliders.

The spell was broken by Oscar Gamble, who outlegged an infield hit to second baseman Marv Staehle.

Mack Jones handled the bulk of the Expo offense, driving in three runs with two homers. Renko's shutout went down the drain in the eighth when the Phillies got their other two hits.

Hank Aaron inaugurated Cincinnati's new ball park with a two-run homer in the first inning and Rico Carty added a three-run shot in the third to help Atlanta whip the Reds.

Pat Jarvis rode the heavy hitting to his eighth victory, scattering nine hits and ending Cincinnati's winning streak at five games.

Pete Rose broke the Astroturf-covered field in right for the Reds with three hits.

The Mets came from behind with a four-run sixth inning to whip Pittsburgh as Jerry Koosman evened his record at 4-4.

Tommie Agee cracked his 17th homer of the year for New York and 11th this month, setting a Mets' club record. Al Oliver and Willie Stargell homered for the Pirates with Stargell's two-run shot knocking out Koosman in the ninth. Ron Raylor came on to retire the last three batters and save the victory.

Bob Gibson overcame a shaky start and won his ninth straight game as the Cardinals came from behind to knock off the reeling Cubs.

Gibson was tagged for a three-run homer by Billy Williams in the first inning but hung on. Later he tagged a homer of his own and tied the game with a single in the seventh. An inning later, Jose Cardenal cracked a pinch homer that doomed the Cubs to another loss. Chicago hasn't won a game since June 20.

Home runs by Bob Barton and Steve Huntz moved San Diego past San Francisco as the Padres beat Gaylord Perry for the first time ever.

Huntz' shot cracked a 2-2 tie in the seventh as the Padres snapped an eight game losing streak. Barton's homer had followed a single by Huntz in the fourth, giving San Diego the early lead against Perry, who had beaten the Padres seven straight times. Bob Heise homered for San Francisco.

Denny Lemaster drove in three runs with a homer and single and pitched six innings of Houston's victory over Los Angeles.

Lemaster tagged a bases-loaded single in the second and then cracked his first homer of the year in the sixth as Houston built an early lead.

Andy Kosco homered for LA and the Dodgers knocked Lemaster out in the seventh but airtight relief work by Jack DiLauro and Fred Gladding preserved the victory.

Pair Smile, Miss Rain at Wimbledon

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Ken Rosewall and John Newcombe were the only smiling contenders for the Wimbledon tennis title today as rain dripped off the ivy-clad walls of the All-England Club.

The two Australians were home and dry in the semifinals, with a day's rest from singles play ahead of them.

Their four remaining rivals were still locked in quarter-final combat and had to play again today, resuming rain-interrupted matches.

When the weather broke Tuesday night Roger Taylor of Britain led Clark Graebner of New York City, last hope of the United States, 6-3, 11-9, 8-7.

Andres Gimeno of Spain was ahead 6-1, 6-2, 1-2 against Australia's Bob "Nails" Carmichael.

But however, the two interrupted quarter-finals finished, the winners had to face the extra strain of day-by-day tension, instead of getting the scheduled day's rest between matches.

As the rain began to fall on the center court, Graebner was on the brink of being eliminated from the tournament. He trailed 5-6 to Taylor in the third set and was 15-40 down on his service. But he saved the two match points and stayed alive.

The match continued in the rain until the score reached 8-7 in Taylor's favor. But Graebner serves first when the duel resumes today.

Earlier the center court fans saw Rosewall, 35, move a step nearer to winning his first Wimbledon title — 16 years after his first appearance in the final.

The little Australian, stroking the ball with pin-point accuracy, demolished Tony Roche, a fellow Australian ten years his junior 10-8, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2.

Newcombe, the 1967 champion, mastered Roy Emerson, winner of the title in 1964 and 1965, 6-1, 5-7, 3-6, 6-2, 11-9 in another all-Australian duel that lasted three hours, ten minutes.

Meanwhile, the women's semifinals were scheduled for today, and the chances swung heavily in favor of Mrs. Billie Jean King, of Long Bearh, Calif., who is trying for her fourth crown in five years.

Her chief rival, Mrs. Margaret Court of Australia, rested Tuesday with injured ligaments in her left ankle. She pulled out of the doubles events.

Thomas Hill, Hurdler of Arkansas State, Full of Surprises

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas State University hurdler Thomas Hill is full of surprises.

During the past month he surprised the track world and himself.

In June, he tied the world record of 13.2 in the 120-yard high hurdles and, two weeks later, handed Willie Davenport, the 1968 Olympic gold medal winner, his only defeat of the year.

"That's what I like to do, surprise myself," Hill said.

Hill had not run better than 13.6 until May 23, when he clocked a wind-aided 13.4. Then, in the U.S. Track and Field Federation meet he ran 13.3, 13.1 and 13.2. An improper wind gauge in the semifinals may have cost him a world record.

"I guess 13.6 was kind of a mental barrier," Hill said. "It was a matter of putting it all together."

The following week he ran 13.9 and finished fifth in the NCAA meet.

Davenport talked with Hill before the two met in the national AAU meet at Bakersfield, Calif., last week.

"He (Davenport) saw the NCAA meet on TV and told me some things that I was doing wrong," Hill said. "He's an unselfish man. He'll sit down and talk with you."

Davenport has been Hill's idol for a couple of years.

"Beating him was one of the greatest feelings of my life," Hill said. "You don't beat a guy like that every day. He's my idea of the best and that includes looking at him as an individual."

Hill's improvement has been rapid.

He did not formally compete in the hurdles in high school at New Orleans, participating in the high jump and long jump. The ASU coaches persuaded him to concentrate on the hurdles although he still participates in several events in some meets.

"I can run about 9.4 in the 100, but if you do you'll have about 20 guys in front of you running 9.3, 9.2 and 9.1," he said.

"I try to do everything I can," he said. "If I could throw the shot I would. The more you do, the more you help yourself."

Hill says he has no idea how much faster he can run the hurdles.

"I didn't think I could do this well," he said. "I'm far from being the world's best hurdler. There's room for a lot of improvement, mostly in technique and form. If I can correct my faults, maybe I will surprise myself again."

Knights of Columbus End Track Meets

BOSTON (AP) — The Knights of Columbus indoor track meet is ending its 44-year history because of financial problems.

The event, held in Boston Garden, has drawn fewer and fewer track fans over the past few years.

A related event, the Boston Athletic Association schoolboy games, traditionally held on the afternoon of the K of C meet, also will be retired.

"We've done everything we can to keep the K of C meet alive," Boston Garden President Eddie Powers said, "but it's reached the point where it's become unfeasible."

The BAA games, now the last remaining major track event in the city, appear to be in jeopardy as well. They will be held next year, though, on Jan. 31.

Travelers Win Over Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Shreveport dropped its 10th straight game Tuesday night as Arkansas' Travelers pounded out 20 hits for a 9-3 Texas League victory.

Shortstop Eddie Crosby was the Travelers big hitter with five singles. First baseman Wayne Dees added four singles and outfielder Dan Napoleon slapped three singles.

Bill Stein walloped a three-run homer in a four-run outburst in the seventh inning.

Mike Walseth, a .326 hitter promoted from Class A Greenwood, belted four hits for the Braves, including a two-run homer in the first inning, and a double.

Braves starter Dave Lobb took the loss and Bruce Von Hoff, ex-Houston Astro pitcher, got the victory.

In other Texas League action San Antonio defeated Memphis 4-2, El Paso edged Amarillo 9-8 and Dallas-Fort Worth won the opener of a doubleheader from Albuquerque 3-0, but the Dodgers took the nightcap 7-5.

Daytona's High-Banked Turns Feared

By F. T. MACFEELY
Associated Press Writer

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Speed's the game at Daytona International Speedway. To graying David Pearson, speed is a money-making game. But the 35-year-old driving ace had rather do his 200-m.p.h. thing elsewhere.

Pearson clocked the second best time in Tuesday's opening trials for the Firecracker 400, scheduled for a 10 a.m. Saturday start.

Doing an average of 188.750 miles an hour isn't bad.

Yet, Pearson isn't at all happy on this steeply-banked course that covers 2.5 miles.

"Drivers don't like this race track," he said in an interview. "If any of them tell you the truth, they will say they don't like to run here."

"I'm not scared," Pearson added quickly. "If I have control of the throttle, I'm not going to be scared. And, I'm not going to drive if I'm scared."

He gets uneasy on the 31-degree banks at both ends of the speedway. Pearson says the Ford feels as though it's about to leave the ground when topping 180 miles an hour.

He looked at the entry list, which had some unfamiliar names, and liked things even less.

"It's bad enough," he said, "to move up from modified to Grand National on the short track. This is a bad race track to try in your first time."

Anyone not familiar with his record might be surprised that the 35-year-old Spartanburg, S.C., veteran won NASCAR's Grand National title, including 1968-69. He won the Firecracker 400 in 1961, has been no worse than fourth since 1967 and was second in last February's Daytona 500.

Pearson and Cale Yarborough of Timmonsville, S.C., said the Dodge-Ploymouth entries here have an edge because of the famed rear stabilizer wing and turned-down nose. Yet, Cale's Mercury was fastest in practice 190.162 m.p.h. and Pearson's Ford next at 188.750.

They were among favorites for the pole in this afternoon's qualifying, along with Daytona 500 winner Pete Hamilton of Dedham, Mass., in a Llymouth; Charlie Glotzbach of Georgetown, Ind., and Bobby Allison of Hueytown, Ala., in Dodges.

Yarborough set the Firecracker 400 qualifying mark at 190.706 last year and the track record at 194.015 in February. July speeds are slower than those in February because heat makes the asphalt sticky.

Ill Health Puts Hill Out of Canadian

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

LONDON, Ont. (AP) — Dave Hill, suffering from dizzy spells, low blood pressure and partial blindness in the right eye, pulled out of the $125,000 Canadian Open Golf tournament, further decimating an already star-starved field.

"There's no fooling around with what the doctor said," Hill told Canadian Open officials from his home in Evergreen, Colo. "He said that unless I had a complete rest, I'd be in the hospital for the rest of the year."

Hill, the stormy character who was the center of a blazing controversy at the U.S. Open, consulted Dr. Robert Dean of Denver early this week after finishing in a tie for fifth in the Cleveland Open Sunday.

"What worried Dr. Dean most," he said, "was that attack that put me out of play for a long time in 1963."

Hill said he "almost collapsed" in the final round Sunday and suffered from dizzy spells every time he bent over to put a tee in the ground. He had complained of being tired earlier in the week. His condition was diagnosed as exhaustion.

His absence left happy Homero Blancas as a likely candidate for the favorite's role in the 144-man field that begins the 72-hole test Thursday on the 7,168-yard, par72 London Hunt and Country Club Course.

"I'm playing good enough to win," said Blancas, "and with Dave out, well, that's just one more I don't have to beat."

Blancas snapped a five-year victory famine in the Colonial National Invitational earlier this year, finished second to Hill at Memphis, was ninth last week at Cleveland and has eight finishes in the top 10 this year. He has won almost $73,000.

None of the top 10 money winners of the year, including last week's winner Bruce Devlin, Lee Trevino and Dick Lotz, are competing this week. Also among the missing are such attractions as Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Carry Player and Billy Casper. Most are preparing for next week's British Open.

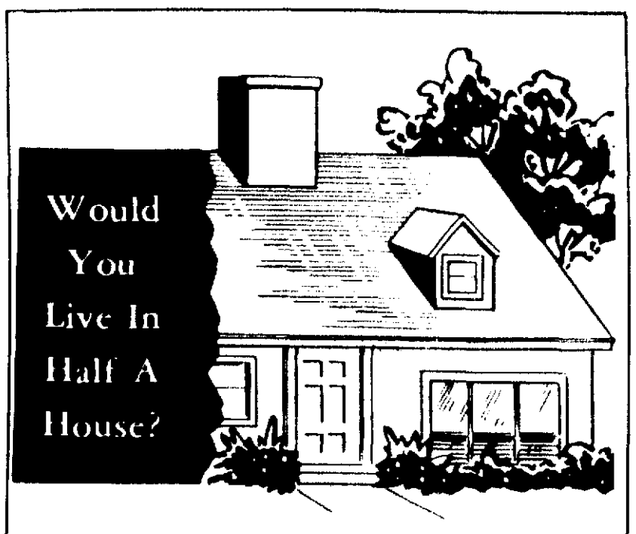

In fact, only seven tournament winners from this year are on hand. They include Blancas and Tommy Aaron, who won the Atlanta Classic and also this event a year ago. The others are Ron Cerrudo, Gibby Gilbert, Mike Hill, Hugh Royer and Pete Brown.

In addition to Blancas and Aaron, some of the other top candidates for the $25,000 first prize include Dave Stockton, Larry Hinson, Howie Johnson, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Bob Goalby and possibly young Steve Eichstaedt' the Vietnam veteran who made his first check of the year last week with a surprise second-place finish.

U.S. Women's Open Begins at Muskogee

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — The world's top women golfers go to war Thursday against par and Oklahoma's wind and heat as the U.S. Women's Open tees off at Muskogee Country Club.

Twelve former Open winners, including defending champion Donna Capona, head a record field of more than 120 for the 72-hole test.

The final four holes Sunday will be televised nationally by ABC-TV. It's the only women's event of the year played before the TV cameras.

The tight par 36-35—71 course has been open for practice rounds since Monday. Many of the early arrivals have had trouble with the weather conditions and the tricky 6,210-yard course.

Temperatures all week have been in the 90s and the Oklahoma wind has lived up to advance billing with 20 to 30 mile per hour gusts.

Four Ladies PGA tournaments were played here in the early 1960s, and the lowest winning score for 72 holes was Mickey Wright's 285 in 1963.

Miss Wright also won here in 1964. Others with fond memories of Muskogee are Patty Berg, who won in 1962, and Susie Maxwell Berning, the 1965 winner. All are former Open champions, Miss Wright having won it four times.

Others who will be bidding to repeat earlier Open triumphs are Betsy Rawls, like Mickey Wright a four-time winner; Sandra Spuzich; Carol Mann; Mary Mills; Murle Lindstrom Breer; Kathy Cornelius; Louise Suggs, and Betty Jameson.

The only former Open champs who won't be here are Faye Crocker, Catherine Lacoste and the late Babe Didrickson Zaharias.

Miss Berg won the first open in 1946.

Local favorites are Susie Berning, a native Oklahoman who was the 1968 Open champion, and Muskogee's Beth Stone, who tied with Mrs. Berning for second place in the 1967 Open.

FAST ARM of Joe Namath, star passer for the New York Jets, should lend itself to the quick draw necessary for his latest acting role. He's currently filming an American Western in Italy.

Barry's and Hope Auto Winners

After a week's rest Little League action began again Tuesday night at K Park.

Barry's outscored James Motor Co. in the first game to bring their record to 11 wins and no loses. The game ended after five innings with a score of 9 to 5. McCorkle was the winning pitcher, David Cobb the loser.

Hope Auto defeated CBC in the second game by a score of 14-1. Steve Gough went the entire game for Hope Auto for the victory and Lavenski Smith took the loss.

Sheriff's Dept. squeezed by Lions in the final game to win 6-4.

David Sisson took the win, Dennis Bilbo, the loss.

Mrs. Nixon Home With Peru Report

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — First Lady Pat Nixon came home from Peru with compliments for a goodwill relief mission described as diplomatically and personally successful.

She said she hoped it would focus worldwide attention on the needs of 800,000 people homeless since a May 31 earthquake.

"They have a lot of courage and will and I know they will recover with the help of the people in this country and throughout the world," she said on her arrival Tuesday.

Mrs. Nixon noted the U.S. may have competition in relief aid, referring to rumblings of international rivalry in the effort. But, she said, "That's good. I don't mind that kind of competition."

Mrs. Nixon won thanks and praise from Peruvian officials, from President Nixon and from the refugees she went to console in the devastated high valleys of the Andes.

It was a mission such as no other first lady ever had undertaken. And President Nixon jokingly suggested: "We will now have invitations for her to represent us in other places, too."

Sounding out the diplomatic reactions in Lima, U.S. Ambassador Taylor G. Belcher said the trip was "a tremendous success" and would certainly improve the somewhat strained diplomatic relations between the two countries. "It can't help but help," he added.

President Nixon, welcoming his wife home, said her journey had been "in effect, people speaking to people, despite differences between governments" and "we should have more of it."

Mrs. Nixon reported the earthquake disaster was of a magnitude she could scarcely believe—"just whole valleys destroyed."

Coach Likes Artificial Grid Turf

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "I'm not crazy about playing on artificial turf," says linebacker George Webster of the Houston Oilers. "You don't get dirty. I like to get dirty when I'm playing. It gives me a feeling of doing something out there."

That's the light side of the debate over artificial turf's role in the future of football, both college and professional variety.

But there is the serious side too, most concisely expressed by Bill Orwig, athletic director of Indiana University, who says:

"We're delighted to be able to put in a surface that will do away with periodical $30,000 re sodding jobs, eliminate costly maintenance and reduce knee and ankle injuries."

And between the light side and the serious side, there is the realistic side too—as put by a spokesman for TCU:

"It's just the coming thing. It's a necessity because every body's doing it. We're just keeping up with the Joneses."

The Joneses are going for synthetic surfaces for their football fields at a startling rate. Seven professional fields and more than 30 college stadiums either have installed the manmade grass the athletes call modsod or have contracted to make the conversion for the 1970 season.

The boom stems from the fact that artificial surfaces are more durable and more resistant to inclement weather than grass. The major element in that is uniformity of conditions, and potentially a more exciting game for the fans.

"You'll see a harder hitting football game here at Pittsburgh now," says center Ray Mansfield of the pro Steelers, "because you can get more traction on the surface."

"The turf helps the team with speed," says Coach Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State, "and we haven't been recruiting any slow players." "We have adopted an offense that is more wide open," says Oklahoma Coach Chuck Fairbanks. "Insuring that we will have sure footing will be to our advantage."

Harder hitting, more speed, a wide-open game—those are the prospects for football in the 1970s on fields carpeted with synthetic surfaces.

It also may solve a major problem in pro football-major league baseball relations—the problem of stadium availability where there is dual occupancy. Usually the pro football team is barred from stadium use until the baseball season ends. But artificial turf may change that.

Since a pro football team can not rip up the durable nylon threads of the synthetic surface, a football game could be played right before a baseball game without damage to the field. That would significantly reduce pro football's scheduling problems.

But of all the contributions moddsod may make to football the most significant could be in the reduction of injuries.

While surveys made so far are inconclusive there is some evidence that the incidence of major injury is reduced on artificial surfaces, although many players, college and pro, complain of skid burns and Astro Toe-bruises on the big toe.

LITTLE ROCK, JUNE 26—During the last meeting of the Commission the regulation concerning gigging of scaled rough fish was changed and the season was lengthened so that rough fish—especially carp—could be taken during the overflow periods of late spring. The new season will run from Dec. 1 through May 31 only and from sunrise to sunset. Formerly, the season ended Jan. 31.

During the October meeting the rough fish gigging season was experimentally opened year around, from sunrise to midnight on South Sylamore Creek in Stone County from Highway 14 bridge upstream and also on Devil's Fork of Little Red River above Greers Ferry Lake, starting at the junction of Raccoon Creek and Beech Fork Creek upstream on both forks.

Other new laws recently initiated by the Commission are:

"It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, partnership, or corporation to engage in raising any fish in confinement in any of the public waters of the state without first registering with the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, and any such undertaking shall be under the same regulations penalty: $50 to $500."

"Unlawful to take deer by the use of any rim-fire rifle, or any full metal case or mitary rifle ammunition, and 410 shotguns legal only with rifled slugs. Penalty: $50 to $300."

"Unlawful for any non-resident to fish for commercial purposes, or to assist in commercial fishing except in the St. Francis River where it is the boundary line between Arkansas and Missouri; in the Red River where its south bank is the boundary line between Arkansas and Texas; and in the Miss. River and adjacent state-line lakes between Arkansas and Tennessee and between Arkansas and Mississippi. Sport fishing license is required in addition to tackle license. Penalty: $50 to $300."

The new laws are effective immediately.

Fish Culturist Hired

LONOKE—John David Cloud, 23-year-old graduate of Ouachita Baptist College, has been employed by the Commission's Fisheries Division as an advanced fish culturist. Cloud, who graduated from college only recently, was previously employed as a parttime biology technician with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission. He is presently undergoing training at the Joe Hogan State Fish Hatchery in Lonoke.

New Wildlife Area

CLINTON—The Game and Fish Commission owns several wildlife management areas across the state and is constantly working to improve the habitat for the resident game. This work takes the form of developing watering holes and making wildlife openings that are planted in grasses to help carry game species through winter. Thus, once the land is bought there is usually plenty of work ahead.

One exception to this usual pattern is the new Van Buren County Wildlife Management Area, a 6,000-acre tract recently purchased by the Commission. This new area contained a large number of openings sowed in Bahia grass when it was purchased, and a good number of year-around watering holes existed. These built-in benefits, coupled with low land costs and its location, prompted the Commission to agree to purchase the land.

Covering an area five miles deep and three miles wide, the new management area is located due west of Scotland and south of Alread and between State Highways 16 and 389. The South Fork of Little Red River runs through the center portion of the area, while the western edge borders the Ozark National Forest.

Duck Grounds In Good Shape

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.—If the duck situation this year hinges on the conditions of the habitat in the Canadian provinces, then duck hunters can rejoice. Biologists who have made made aerial surveys of the pot-hole region report that the water situation is improved since the last survey back in late spring. At that time the water—vital to duck reproduction—was termed excellent.

NIXON REBUKED

in coming weeks. One will come on a resolution to repeal the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin resolution, even though such action was included in the Cooper-Church amendment.

The second will come when a bipartisan team of senators headed by Democrat George S. McGovern of South Dakota and Republican Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon try to amend the upcoming military procurement bill with their "Amendment to End the War" by requiring withdrawal of all American forces from Indochina by next July 1.

It is considered much more drastic—and its chances for passage considerably less—than the Cooper-Church measure, which limits funds for U.S. activities in Cambodia.

Use of U.S. ground combat troops in Laos or Thailand was barred by an amendment passed last year to the defense appropriations bill.

After the approval of Cooper-Church, the Senate voted 75 to 20 to pass the military sales bill which had served as the vehicle for the debate. The measure restricts the program under which surplus U.S. military equipment is sold to foreign countries at bargain rates.

Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee and likely head of his house's conferees, said, "I don't think we'll be in any hurry to go to conference. But eventually we will have to have a military sales bill."

Sen. Church, co-author of the amendment and a key Senate conferee, said he is opposed to the military sales bill unless its proposal is retained.

The passage of Cooper-Church on the last day of the current U.S. operation in Cambodia reflected the view of the majority of senators that Nixon should have consulted with Congress before undertaking the venture and should do so in the future, except in the case of extreme emergency requiring immediate action.

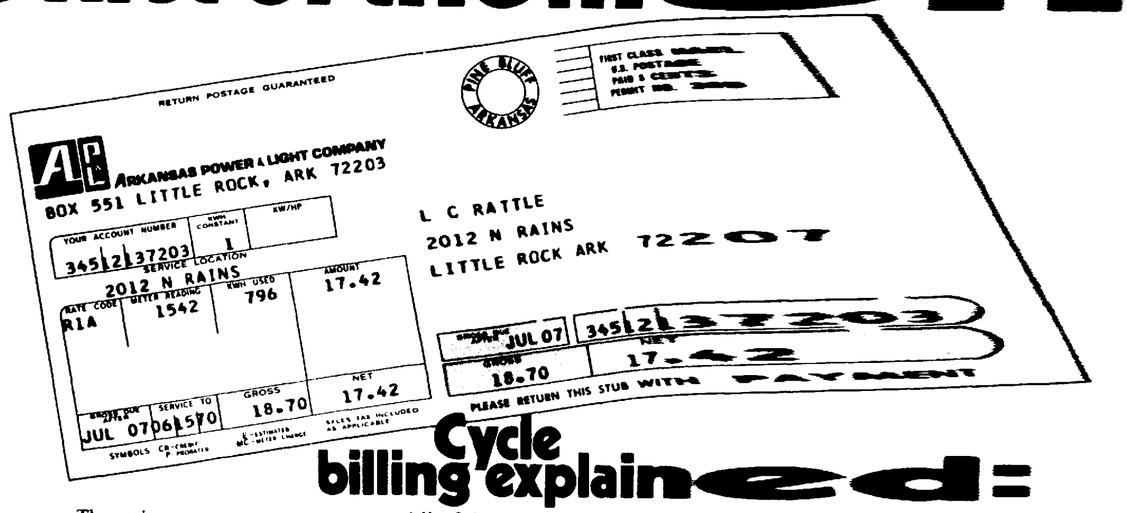

Antiwar senators launched the drive to show their displeasure soon after Nixon announced the Cambodian operation.

The amendment, which sponsors said retains its substance despite five changes during the weeks of debate, bars funds starting today for retaining U.S. forces in Cambodia, for advisers, for paying mercenaries from other Asian nations and for air strikes in support of Cambodian forces.

An amendment by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., adopted 69 to 27 just before the final vote, permits air strikes in support of South Vietnamese and Thai forces.

Moments earlier, the Nixon administration lost by 50 to 45 an effort to amend Cooper-Church to permit financial support of troops and advisers from other Asian nations, especially Thailand.

Why you don't get your electric bill on the first of the month.

Cycle billing explained:

The main reason everyone doesn't get his bill on the first of the month is to save you money.

Because when we can cut costs in our business it helps hold the line against inflation. Which also helps your budget, too.

Years ago we sent out our bills around the first of the month. But as our company grew and the number of customers increased, it became evident that a considerable savings could be gained by spreading them out over the entire month. So we switched to what is known as "cycle billing," mailing out about 20,000 bills daily.

This system meant a substantial reduction in labor costs and we were able to balance the work load of meter readers, accounting people and computer personnel for each working day.

All of these things meant savings in our operating cost.

The result? We were able to reflect part of these savings in holding the line on rates for you over the past several years. (In fact, the average cost per kilowatt hour for our residential customers has gone down each of the last ten years.)

No matter when you get your bill, you still have 10 working days to pay it before the gross amount is due.

Cycle billing is just one more way we're trying to help in the fight against inflation. It's an uphill battle, but we appreciate your understanding and help.

If you have any questions about cycle billing, your nearby AP&L office will be more than happy to answer them.

A plaintive letter from Florida read in part, "West played ace-king and eight of diamonds. East ruffed with the 10, which established his partner's jack to set me two tricks. In order to establish peace in our family, will you please tell us which partner was at fault in the bidding?"

We doubt if our answer endeared us to either North or South, because we said that they both misbid but it may have restored family peace.

The first poor bid was South's two no-trump. He should have bid three clubs because, if the hand were to play in three no-trump, South knew he could stand a lead through either of his suits. That bid did no harm because, after North bid three hearts, South should simply have gone to four hearts. South had nice distribution but only 12 high-card points.

North's bid of four diamonds had nothing to commend it. He was not going to play in diamonds, so there was no point rebidding a queen-high suit at that time. A mere four-heart call would have been better.

South's jump to five hearts must be described as mild slamomania. He still had that same 12 high-card points he was dealt.

Then, North had no reason except optimism for continuing to six. He had very good spades but his weakness in diamonds was the outstanding feature of his hand.

Finally, it wasn't the worst slam ever bid. If West didn't have a natural diamond lead, he would have opened some other suit, and South would have romped home and there would have been no fight.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Air Conditioning Not Unmixed Blessing

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Air conditioning is not an unmixed blessing. In moderation it is a boon, especially to persons with a heart disease, but nose and throat specialists have found that sudden chilling on entering an air-conditioned building aggravates chronic sinusitis. The victims often attribute their discomfort to an unidentified allergy but avoidance of extreme changes in the environmental temperature leads to a marked improvement.

If you can't escape air-conditioned surroundings, it is helpful to avoid being in a direct draft from the apparatus. Women should wear a shawl or sweater when in a greatly cooled room.

Authorities recommend that the indoor temperature be cooled to not more than five or 10 degrees below the outdoor reading. On very hot days, however, if you are still hot 30 minutes after coming indoors, you can safely increase the air conditioning.

Q—I have Symmon's disease. My doctor is giving me hormones. Do you think they will help me?

A—I assume that what you have is Simmond's disease, a pituitary deficiency, which is characterized by weakness, loss of weight, loss of axillary and pubic hair and, in women, failure to menstruate. In treatment, the best results are obtained when a combination of hormones (ACTH, gonadotropin, estrogen, androgen and thyroid) is given. The proportions of these hormones must be skillfully balanced by your doctor to meet your individual need.

Q—What is Hand-Schuller-Christian's disease? Can it be cured?

A—This disease, also called chronic idiopathic xanthomatosis, starts slowly, usually before the age of 6. It is characterized by small yellow nodules in the skin, increased thirst and urination (diabetes insipidus), protrusion of the eyeballs and thinning of the bones of the skull, shoulder blades and pelvis. Deep X-ray therapy may slow the progress of the disease but cannot be said to cure it.

Q—My husband's death certificate says CVA, old, with flaccid hemiplegia. What does this mean?

A—CVA stands for cerebrovascular accident (a stroke due to a clot or hemorrhage in the brain). Flaccid hemiplegia is the accompanying paralysis of one side of the body.

Insurance Men Win District Contest

Recently local agents of Lincoln Life Insurance Co. were district winners in a contest held by the Company. Not only did the Hope boys win the district but they also broke all existing records of the Company here. Lincoln Life gave the boys a 3 day all-expense trip to Millwood Lake.

Prison Escapes Part of Plot to Extract More Tax, Is Charge

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Prosecutor Gerald Pearson of Jonesboro says the laxity of the Arkansas prison administration permits numerous escapes and that this is "a deliberate action to panic the legislature into appropriating millions of dollars to further their efforts at coddling of prisoners."

Pearson made the statement Monday in a speech to the Jonesboro Lions Club.

"I don't know what we could do to keep them (the prisoners) from leaving," said Correction Commissioner C. Robert Sarver when asked about Pearson's remarks. "There are no fences, no walls. It doesn't take any ingenuity to run.

"Any pressure brought to bear has been brought to bear by the federal court," Sarver said. He was referring to a February decision in which the court ruled that the trusty system at the prison was unconstitutional.

Sarver said Pearson's statement was "not a very enlightened comment."

Pearson, charging that the forces of "extreme liberalism" are in control of the prisons, said Act 50 of the 1968 special session contained the most liberal parole and release provision in the country.

"It was probably the greatest blow ever struck at law and order in Arkansas," Pearson said. He said the bill permits an inmate to be paroled after serving one-third of his sentence and makes additional allowances for good behavior.

"Habitual criminals and killers are being released after short periods of confinement and 75 per cent of them will return to prison in a relatively short time," Pearson said.

The prosecutor also attacked the furlough policies of the prison. He referred specifically to the case of William Gowdy, who was convicted of first-degree murder in Crittenden County and given a furlough less than a year later.

Sarver has taken the blame in the Gowdy incident.

Sarver said that while Gowdy was in prison his wife moved to Dumas and that Mrs. Gowdy called the prison recently to say that one of Gowdy's two children was seriously ill. Gowday was granted an emergency furlough from which he never returned. A check showed that Mrs. Gowdy is no longer a resident of Dumas.

"That was my fault," Sarver said today. "The rules are pretty sound. I just didn't follow them and got my finger burned."

Sarver also said he probably will not terminate the practice of giving furloughs.

"I don't want to eliminate it, and I won't, unless there are extreme abuses," he said. "We've got to tighten it up more. We already were operating pretty tightly, but now it's doubly so."

Sarver mentioned the possibility of canceling the practice of furloughs after several prisoners failed to return to confinement when released for brief periods.

Since January, a total of 60 furloughs have been granted, and six inmates did not come back, Sarver said. Of the six, two were on emergency furloughs and four were on meritorious furloughs.

Pearson also charged that Sarver had refused to ask for the FBI's aid in the Gowdy case.

"The FBI has been in the case for several weeks," Sarver said. "They would not get in it the first day because we were not sure interstate flight was involved."

Union Peace Is Near for Grape Farms

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
AP Education Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A report to be distributed to the 108th annual convention of the National Education Association this week discloses that one of four students nationwide have reading deficiencies.

Prepared by the National School Public Relations Association, an NEA affiliate, the report also states that there are more than three million illiterates in the adult population and that half the unemployed between 16 and 21 years old are functionally illiterate.

The report says large numbers of elementary school teachers have never been taught to teach reading effectively.

It adds that most high school teachers have never had a course in reading although they are confronted daily with students with reading deficiencies.

The report urges more individualized classroom instruction, remedial classes and home tutoring.

The NEA convention, which runs until July 6, focused today on the Association of Classroom Teachers, an organization within the NEA composed of 900,000 classroom teachers.

The main NEA Representative Assembly, with 7,000 delegates participating, gets under way Friday morning. It may be faced with a touchy racial problem involving the predominantly white North Carolina Education Association and the predominantly black North Carolina Teachers Association.

The white group said it plans to become a racially unified organization. Leaders of the Negro group insist they will not merge unless certain conditions are met and will seek to be seated as the official delegates.

Earlier this year two white state NEA affiliates, in Louisiana and Mississippi, were expelled for failure to merge racially separated NEA affiliates.

Arson Suspected in 6 Deaths

NEWARK (AP) — Six persons, including four children in one family, died early today when a fire of suspicious origin ripped through two three-story frame buildings in Newark, officials said.

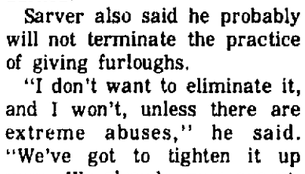

Six brothers and sisters of the dead children were injured, along with four other residents and two firemen.

The youngsters were the sons and daughters of Marcos Meneses, 43.

Deputy Fire Chief Thomas O'Boyle said investigators believed the fire was set by arsonists. He said gasoline cans were found where the fire started in the front stairway and halls of the gutted buildings.

British Ask for Common Market

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — Britain's new Conservative government opened negotiations today to join the European Common Market with a warning that no British government could think of joining unless there is a fair settlement of financial burdens.

"Without such a solution," said Anthony Barber, Britain's new minister for European affairs, "the whole basis of stability and confidence essential to the further development of the community would be lacking."

He emphasized his government's commitment to the six-nation European Economic Community but added: "None of us in this room knows whether we shall succeed."

Barber spoke at a ceremonial session of representatives from the six Common Market countries and four applicant nations. The others seeking admission are Ireland, Denmark and Norway and Sweden is waiting in the wings to see if it can reconcile membership with its traditional neutrality.

After the ceremonial beginning today, Barber and the other negotiators will hold a business meeting on July 21 in Brussels and then adjourn for the summer. Intensive negotiations are expected to begin in September or October, and British officials expect them to last 18 months or more.

Present with Barber for the formal meeting today was Foreign Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home. Their chief, Prime Minister Edward Heath, represented Britain in earlier membership negotiations which French President Charles de Gaulle's veto ended in 1963.

Although the success of the negotiations will depend largely on resolution of economic and financial issues, both Barber and the chairman of the Common Market Council of Ministers, Belgian Foreign Minister Pierre Harmel, emphasized the hopes that the economic union is a step toward political unity.

The Common Market is made up of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg and has two major achievements in its 12-year history: a customs union and a common farm policy.

Britain is eager to join the customs union so her industrial products can be sold duty free to the continental members' 300 million people. But Britain can get this benefit only by subscribing to the common farm policy, and that will be costly.

Britain now imports much of its food from sources that are cheaper than the Common Market countries. As a member of the community, it would be expected to shift much of its purchases to the more expensive West European producers, with a consequent increase in food costs to Britain consumers or of government subsidies to keep consumer prices down.

Estimates of the initial annual cost of membership to the British range from $240 million to $2.6 billion. Opinion polls indicate some 65 per cent of Britain's voters oppose joining the community, largely from fear that their food prices will rise. But Britain's Conservative, Labor and Liberal parties all endorse the membership effort.

The British believe the French still hold the key to whether they get in, but with De Gaulle out of the way they think the chance of a French veto is considerably lessened.

Nelson Gets Nod for F. & G.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday he had appointed R. A. Nelson of Blytheville to the state Game and Fish Commission.

Nelson succeeds Newt Hailey of Rogers, whose term expired today. Nelson's term will be for seven years.

Nelson, a businessman, was in line for appointment to the commission in 1969 but Ralph Griffin of Jonesboro was named instead in what was reported a tradeout with state Rep. Jimmy Doyle Hunt of Jonesboro.

It was reported that if Rockefeller would appoint Griffin, Hunt would drop his efforts in support of a bill to strip the governor's authority to appoint the Welfare commissioner. The bill eventually failed.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — R. A. Nelson, a Blytheville businessman, is in line for appointment by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller to the state Game and Fish Commission.

Nelson would succeed Newt Hailey of Rogers, whose term expires Wednesday.

Nelson's term would be for seven years.

Nelson was in line for appointment to the commission in 1969, but Ralph Griffin of Jonesboro was named instead in what was reported as a tradeout with a state legislator.

General Fund Report Is Good

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Max Milam, director of the state Administration Department said Tuesday that preliminary figures show that general revenues will be more than enough to fund the Revenue Stabilization Act for the fiscal year that ended Tuesday.

Milam had said last week that revenues might fall $500,000 below the amount needed to fully fund the act.

Milam said there would be enough money on hand to pay the $224,083,274 required of allotments A and B of the act. He said $655,599 would be left over for construction in the fiscal year.

The Revenue Stablization Act is enacted by the legislature to determine the distribution of general revenues.

The figures released Tuesday by Milam are based on state Revenue Department reports. They will be checked against figures of the state treasurer.

The money to fully fund allotments A and B will actually fall $1,591,790 short, but the deficit will be made up by taking money from funds that have accumulated in the state construction fund this fiscal year.

The legislature had set aside 1 per cent of general revenues for construction, but provided that this money could be transferred to fund allotments A and B if it were needed.

The $655,599 left for construction will be distributed $217,000 for state Capitol repairs, $21,500 for highway tourist bureaus, $150,000 for the maximum security unit at the Boys Training School at Wrightsville, $75,000 for a reception and reclassification center at the Girls Training School at Alexander, $100,000 for vocational - technical school construction and $38,000 for an armory at Charleston.

The legislature set up the priorities for construction. The remaining $54,099 was scheduled to be applied to another $100,000 for vocational - technical school construction.

Total general revenues for the fiscal year, according to the preliminary figures, was $239,773,723. From this money, $7.8 million was set aside for tax refunds, $6,959,212 for the constitutional and fiscal agencies and $275,638 for the constitutional convention.

Beef Imports Up, But No Price Relief

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has opened the door a little wider for increased imports of meat, but the unprecedented move is not expected to alter hamburger prices much.

About 78 million pounds of additional meat will be allowed in the United States this year under the action announced Tuesday by Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin.

Cattlemen were pleased the increase was not larger and Hardin himself said the extra meat would do little to ease retail prices for consumers.

Most of the imported meat is beef from Australia and New Zealand. A large share of the increase already has arrived in the United States, Hardin told a news conference.

The administration had been under pressure for many months from consumer interests to make more imported meat available to help head off the kind of retail price crunch that hit housewives last summer.

Government statisticians say the average over-the-counter price of hamburger was 66.3 cents a pound in April and 66.7 cents in May. The price was 61.2 cents in May 1969.

But Hardin said the boosts in meat imports just won't be enough to stem any increase in consumer costs.

Anti-Crime Bill Heads for Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — An administration-backed bill to authorize $3.2 billion for state and local law enforcement headed today for sure passage in the Senate after the House approved it 342-2.

One-quarter of the funds—which would be spread over three years—would go to improve jails and prisons.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell has called the bill the administration's major program to reduce lawlessness, although the expanding program was begun in the previous administration.

The bill, which the House passed Tuesday, would authorize $650 million for the fiscal year starting today, $1 billion for fiscal 1972, and $1.5 billion for 1973. Actual appropriations might be less.

Local agencies would have to put up some of their own money to qualify for federal grants, and states must put up 25 per cent of the local share.

State governments—often criticized as favoring rural areas over cities—will distribute the funds, but must allocate "adequate" money to high-crime cities.

Self-Help Watchword for Asia

MANILA (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State William Rogers arrived in Manila today for a meeting of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and said self-reliance has become the keynote for the area's nations—including those beset by war in Indochina.

"Asians are seeking through self-help and regional cooperation to apply Asian solutions to Asian problems," said Rogers in an airport statement.

"We are glad to see Asian members of SEATO in the forefront of this important development," he added, referring to the Philippines, Thailand, and Pakistan.

"SEATO has played a vital role in helping to maintain the shield to protect the free countries of East Asia against Communist aggression," Rogers continued. "Behind this shield there has been remarkable growth.

"It will be the purpose of our conference which starts here in Manila tomorrow to discuss how the SEATO nations can continue to play a constructive role in maintaining the peace and advancing the development and well-being of the people of this area."

Rogers noted that President Nixon had reaffirmed that the United States would remain faithful to its commitments to friends and allies. He said the United States was proud of its participation in SEATO and its membership in the Pacific community.

But he strongly emphasized the theme of self-help and regional cooperation which Nixon made an important part of his Guam Doctrine last year.

The Guam Doctrine and its application is one of the key questions to be discussed when the SEATO ministers open their 15th annual meeting Thursday.

Fight Inflation . . .

At a time when inflation is on every tongue, it will pay all of us to make our savings work harder in, producing income.

We also suggest to our customers that they stamp out needless spending and get back to the basics. Spend sensibly, and save for a brighter future.

That way, you'll be doing your part to defeat inflation. And you'll be doing something important for your family's security.
